How?

You and your job coach will meet regularly and work together to plan how to progress into working life. Getting help networking, surveying the labour markets and contacting employers. A job coach can help you find the right job, for example by contacting potential employers in different fields and giving tips on vacancies. If needed, a job coach can also accompany you to work and business visits, as well as in the event of any hiring.

Together you get to work on your CV, observe changes in the job market and go through different job search strategies to reduce your job search time. You will be helped to find the right path to working or study. Together we make a concrete plan of action.
